Introduction

PohlCon GmbH, including PohlCon Solar GmbH & Co. KG and other associated subsidiaries - (hereinafter collectively referred to as "PohlCon") would like to establish a common basic understanding of social, responsible and ethical corporate management with this Code of Conduct.

This Code of Conduct reflects not only our values, but also sets out the principles of our actions and decisions. We expect all employees, managers and senior management at all our locations around the world to live up to these principles. We believe that our long-term success is linked to the fact that responsible and commercial business success are not mutually exclusive, but mutually reinforcing.

It is only through our continued commitment to the following principles that we can secure the trust, acceptance and goodwill of our business partners, clients and contractual partners for the future. Compliance with the law is of the utmost importance to PohlCon. Breaches of the law present a high risk to us and our employees, as they can result in fines, penalties, damages and a tarnished reputation.

The principles in this Code of Conduct are minimum standards that are binding for each and every employee. By its nature, the Code of Conduct cannot cover all laws and standards. It is therefore never exhaustive. Compliance requirements for our suppliers and external partners are outlined in the Code of Conduct for Business Partners.

If you have any questions or comments, please contact your line manager, senior management, or the compliance officer.

A. Values

We win people over with our communication, reliability, quality and competent service. Creativity and a wealth of ideas drive our progress in developing products and services.

III. Our responsibility

As a growing family business, PohlCon is aware of its responsibility as an employer, a reliable business partner and a resource-efficient and sustainable company.

We are fully committed to complying with applicable laws, government regulations and internal company policies, which we believe are essential to the integrity and credibility with which our business is perceived.

B. Principles

I. Adherence to the law and compliance principles

PohlCon recognises its responsibility to ensure compliance with all applicable statutory regulations in its business operations. The principles contained herein reflect the key principles that guide our business conduct, and are binding for all employees.

The key compliance principles are:

1. Fair competition

We act in accordance with national and international competition and antitrust laws. PohlCon is committed to fair competition and the free development of all participants in the market. Agreements of any kind with competitors on prices, terms and conditions, market allocation and non-competition are prohibited. Our employees respect the principles of fair and open competition.

2. Prevention of corruption

We do not engage in corruption, bribery or any form of extortion. In order to maintain our integrity as a reliable and competitive business partner, PohlCon's business relationships are based on objective criteria. PohlCon does not influence or distort competition through corruption-related payments, nor does it make any such attempts. Employees are required to comply with internal anti-corruption policies.

Furthermore, business matters should never be influenced by personal interests or considerations. In particular, this includes any financial, business, family or close relationship with a competitor, client, supplier or business partner. Situations in which personal interests could come into conflict with the interests of PohlCon are to be avoided.

3. Prevention of money laundering

We also do not tolerate any activities related to money laundering. It is the responsibility of our employees to be vigilant and to prevent transactions that could potentially expose PohlCon to the suspicion of money laundering. We are committed to the detection and reporting of such suspicious transactions or activities.

4. Data privacy, confidentiality and protecting third-party rights

All personal data relating to employees, clients, business partners and other third parties are to be treated confidentially and processed in accordance with the national and international data protection laws applicable to PohlCon.

All employees are aware of their obligation to maintain the confidentiality of business and proprietary information as part of their employment with PohlCon. This includes, but is not limited to, trade secrets, business documents and business records. Information is to be stored properly and protected from unauthorised access by third parties.

All employees are required to respect the valid intellectual property rights of third parties (e.g. patents, copyrights and trademarks). No unauthorised use is to take place.

5. Financial integrity

All business records that PohlCon compiles, publishes and, in particular, makes available to the competent authorities, shareholders and creditors must be complete in accordance with the applicable accounting principles. We create the necessary conditions to ensure the safety of our employees and third parties and comply with applicable labour, accident prevention and health regulations.

III. Environmental protection, climate protection, and sustainability

PohlCon is constantly improving the sustainability of its products and services in order to fulfil its commitment to environmentally oriented management.

In addition, we have taken appropriate measures and act in accordance with applicable environmental legislation and international standards to minimise negative impacts on the environment.

We reject the use of conflict materials such as rare earths and ores from conflict zones.

IV. Selection of business partners

Reliable business partners are of great importance to us. That is why we choose ours with great care. We apply risk-based checks and expect our business partners to adhere to the same principles as we do. We ensure this through our Code of Conduct for our business partners.

C. Implementation and whistleblowing unit

All employees are required to comply with the provisions of this Code of Conduct. These principles are fleshed out in internal guidelines and directives. Regular training courses and e-learning programmes also take place.

Violations of the Code of Conduct will not be tolerated. They will be appropriately penalised and may result in consequences for the employment relationship and claims for damages.

We encourage our employees to use the whistleblowing channels provided by PohlCon to report information about breaches of the law or important internal guidelines and principles of conduct set out in this Code of Conduct.

We are also open to suggestions for improvement and comments on the implementation of this Code of Conduct.
